4. How we share information we collect

4.1. We may disclose your personal data to our affiliates and third party partners, agents, and processors (“BIPO Agents”) to the extent required to provide the information and services that you have requested, or in the normal course and scope of our business or in the provision of our services, and where required or permitted by applicable laws. Accordingly, we ensure that these entities are legally bound to similarly use and process personal data in compliance with applicable laws.

4.2. At present, the types of BIPO Agents we entrust include the following:

4.2.1. vendors and service providers of our BIPO Website that support our business and who assist in providing, managing, and administering the BIPO Website, our products and services, including those providing technical infrastructure and hosting services, and other third party service providers who process personal data on behalf of BIPO.

4.2.2. auditors; agents or subcontractors acting on behalf of BIPO; lawyers and other professional advisors; and government or regulatory authorities.

4.3. Our BIPO Website may contain links to third-party websites over which we have no control. If you follow a link to any of these websites or submit information to them, your information will be governed by their policies. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of third-party websites before use / submission of any information to them.

4.4. We may share your information with government and law enforcement authorities in the countries where we operate to comply with applicable laws or regulations, for example when we respond to claims, legal processes, law enforcement, or national security requests.

4.5. If we are acquired by a third party as a result of a merger, acquisition, or business transfer, your personal information may be disclosed and/or transferred to a third party in connection with such transaction. We will notify you if such transaction takes place and inform you of any choices you may have regarding your information.

5. How we store and secure information we collect

5.1. We use data hosting service providers based in various locations according to the products and services you have requested from us. Where required by applicable laws, and/or upon your reasonable written request, we shall provide you with further information on our data hosting service providers.

5.2. We have adopted the measures to protect the security and integrity of your personal information, including:

5.2.1. encryption of information using TLS/SSL technology;

5.2.2. ensuring that access to your personal information is restricted on a strictly need-to-know basis, who will only process your information on our instructions and who are subject to a duty of confidentiality; and

5.2.3. regular reviews of our information collection, storage, and processing practices.

5.3. We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected privacy breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

- 5.4. While we implement safeguards designed to protect your information, please note that no transmission of information on the Internet is completely secure. We cannot guarantee that your information, during transmission through the Internet or while stored on our systems or processed by us, is absolutely safe and secure.
- 5.5. We only retain personal data for so long the purpose for which that personal data was collected is being served by retention of the personal data, or where necessary for any legal, accounting, or business purposes, and to the extent permitted by applicable laws. After such time, we will delete or anonymize your information, or if this is not possible, we will securely store your information and isolate it from further use. We periodically review the basis and appropriateness of our data retention policy.

6. Your rights to your personal information

- 6.1. When the purpose and means of processing your personal information is determined by BIPO, subject to applicable exceptions, you have the right to exercise the following personal data requests:
- 6.1.1. request to be informed of what we do with your personal information;
 - 6.1.2. request for a copy of personal information in our control or possession;
 - 6.1.3. request correction of inaccuracy or error in any personal information we hold about you;
 - 6.1.4. request to receive your personal information in our control or possession in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format.
 - 6.1.5. withdraw your consent at any time where we use consent as the legal basis for processing your personal information. If you no longer wish to receive our emails or other communications, you may withdraw your consent by using the unsubscribe link in our communications. Please note that if you opt out from receiving marketing materials from us, you may still receive notifications, alerts, updates or information from us that are necessary for the use of our products or services.
 - 6.1.6. request deletion of all your personal information.

BIPO shall comply with the request to the extent reasonably possible, subject to conditions necessary to comply with legal obligations, and to the purposes of our normal business operations where permitted by applicable law;

6.2. As a security measure, we may need specific information from you to help us confirm your identity when you exercise your rights and to process the above requests.

6.3. For request of deletion of personal information, if deletion is not possible, BIPO will anonymize the information, or securely store and isolate it, to stop further use of the information.

6.4. All requests mentioned in section 6.1 will normally be addressed free of charge. However, we may charge a reasonable administration fee if your request is repetitive, or excessive, to the extent permitted by applicable laws.

6.5. When the purpose and means of processing your personal information stored in BIPO systems (e.g., BIPO HRMS web and mobile applications) is determined by your organization (i.e. BIPO's customer), the processing of your personal information is then governed by your organization's privacy policy, and not this policy. For this situation, all your requests mentioned in section 6.1 should be directed to the person responsible for handling such data subject requests in your organization. Should BIPO receive the request directly from you, BIPO shall forward the request to the designated person in your organization.

7. Overseas transfers of personal data

7.1. Due to the global nature of our business and that of our third parties who process your personal data on our behalf, personal data we collect from you may be transferred, processed and stored outside the jurisdiction where the personal data is collected, to the extent required in the normal course and scope of our business in the provision of our products and services, and where required or permitted by applicable law. If personal data is transferred from European Economic Area ("EEA") to Non-EEA Area, we will ensure that adequate protection of your data is provided as required by applicable law, for example entering into "standard contractual clauses" issued by the European Commission.

7.2. Although the data protection laws of these other countries may not be as comprehensive as those in your own, we will take all necessary steps to ensure that your personal information is treated securely, and in accordance with this Privacy Statement and any applicable laws.

8. Changes to this statement

8.1. We reserve the right to amend this Statement from time to time to reflect any changes to our use of your personal information or our business practices, and we will notify you of such changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page, Where required by the relevant applicable laws or regulatory requirements, we shall seek your prior consent to the amended Statement We nevertheless encourage you to review this Privacy Statement periodically to be informed of how we use your personal information.

9. Policy towards children

9.1. Our products and services are not directed to minors. In case we need to collect personal information from persons who are below the age limit for consent applicable to their country of residence, we will contact your Organization (where applicable) or the parental authority to get the consent. Contact us if you believe that we have mistakenly or unintentionally collected information from persons who are below the age limit for consent applicable to their country of residence. We shall protect the privacy and security of minors to the maximum extent permitted by law.
